WHO WE ARE

Genr8 is a start-up conceived to promote clean energy neutrality through the means of a distributed exchange system, based on blockchain technology, applied to the current structure and operation of power industry.

Data and analytic components of digitalization provides solutions to the social energy dilemmas faced nowadays. These solutions will help reduce costs, enhance the lives of the lowest income brackets and enable a greater range of freedom optimization.

BLOCKCHAIN TECHNOLOGY

The Genr8 solution is an all in one platform where you can instantly trade energy and transactions will be recorded on a blockchain ledger.

Like the Internet revolutionized a new world of accessible information and applications, Blockchain disrupted the digital world by easing of self-executing programs without intermediation, under an uninterrupted established protocol.

Using the finance industry as an example, blockchain allows monetary transactions to run without banks mediating. In terms of energy access, Genr8 is decentralizing the industry from the grid to gain access to a market of cheaper and cleaner energy.

Our blockchain-backed platform will no doubt disrupt the power industry by creating public, transparent, independent, safe, and automated environment for digital transactions.
